SENSATIONAL DEATH.

Millionaire Banker and Diplomat of New York Meets Violent Death.

SON OF EX-SECRETARY OF STATE FISH.

During a Carousal In a Saloon With a Couple of Women, Fish Has Trouble With a Private Detective.

New York, Sept. 16.—Nicholas Fish, millionaire, diplomat, and descendant and one of the best known of American families, died at the Roosevelt hospital at 3:25 a. m., the result of an injury received in Erhard's saloon, 205 West Thirty-fourth street.

Whether he was murdered or fell the police have not yet determined. Conflicting stories are told, but there seems to be no doubt that Mr. Fish had a quarrel with a private detective named Thomas J. Sharkey, who joined the banker at a table, where he had been for several hours drinking with Mrs. Libbie J. Phillips and Mrs. Nellie Casey.

Coroner Jackson made an examination of Mr. Fish's body and said that no fracture of the skull had been found. He believed death had been due to paralysis of the brain, caused by a blow in the left side of the face or head. Dr. O'Hanlon, coroner's physician, performed an autopsy on the body of Mr. Fish. He found that death was caused by cerebral hemorrhage due to violence.

Mrs. Libbie J. Phillips, 38 years old; Mrs. Nellie Casey, 30 years old; and Thomas J. Sharkey, 48 years old, a private detective, were arrested in connection with the case. According to the police, Mr. Fish entered Erhard's saloon, 25 West Forty-fifth street with Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Casey. The police say that Mrs. Phillips knew who Fish was, but that neither Mrs. Casey nor Sharkey, who subsequently joined the party, were aware of his identity. Sharkey, who knew the women, was not reluctant to join the party, when one of the women invited him to. The police say that Fish did most of the buying. Fish then discovered that his money was exhausted, and he announced that he would have to draw a check. Sharkey, ignorant of Fish's identity, questioned his ability to make his check good. Fish, it is said, took offense at this and angry words ensued. Then, according to the police, some one slapped Fish's face. One of the women, clinging to Fish's arm, dragged him toward the door of the saloon and out to the sidewalk. The police say that Sharkey attempted to follow Fish, but was for a moment restrained from doing so by the other women. He finally went out of the saloon and he and Fish encountered each other on the sidewalk. Sharkey's hat had been knocked off and he was bareheaded. There was a scuffle, by whom commenced, it is not known. Fish fell or was knocked down, his head striking a flagstone. Just before the scuffle on the sidewalk commenced, Mrs. Casey becoming alarmed, hurriedly left the party.

After Fish fell, it is said, that Sharkey entered the saloon and then left it and went into a saloon a few doors away and a moment later left that place and boarded a street car. He was closely followed by Mrs. Phillips, who was carrying his hat and who also boarded the car. Fish was lying unconscious on the sidewalk and a knot of people gathered about him and some men carried him into the hallway of the saloon and tried to revive him. Being unsuccessful they again brought him to the street, thinking he might revive there. He was lying on the street when a policeman appeared. The officer called an ambulance from Roosevelt hospital. Fish identity was not learned until the hospital was reached and his clothing was searched. As soon as it was learned who he was, he was entered as a private patient.

Mrs. Casey, Mrs. Phillips and Sharkey were arraigned in police court and were held for the coroner. A detective said to the sitting magistrate that the prisoners were arraigned as suspicious persons in connection with the death of Nicholas Fish.

Mrs. Casey denied all knowledge of the case. Mrs. Phillips when questioned about the case said: "You'll find out later."

Coroner Jackson held Sharkey in $10,000 bail and Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Casey in $500 bail each as witnesses.

Sharkey made the following statement preliminary to his arraignment: "I went into Erhard's and saw there two women with whom I am acquainted. They called out when they saw me 'Come over and have a drink.' I went over and sat down with them and after I had talked to them some, this banker, Fish, seemed to take offense at my being there. We had a few words and all at once he drew off with his arm and struck me. Then we both got up. I went out one door and he the other. He must have stumbled down the steps and fallen in going out."

Mr. Fish, aged 53, was descendant of one of the oldest and most distinguished of American families. His grandfather, Colonel Nicholas Fish, fought with distinction in the battles of Harlem Heights, Saratoga and Yorktown, and his father, Hamilton Fish, was the first secretary of state under President Grant.

INJUNCTION ASKED
By Attorney General Pratt to Prevent Prize Fight.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 16.—In accordance with instructions received from Governor Beckham, Attorney General Pratt filed in the Jefferson circuit court a suit for an injunction, seeking to prevent the contest scheduled to take place before the Southern Athletic club at the auditorium here next Monday night from being held in this city.

The motion for the injunction will be argued before Judge Emmett Field of the common pleas division of the circuit court Thursday morning and it is expected that a decision will be handed down promptly in order that the status of the contest can be determined at once. Should the decision be against the match, the fighters' attorneys say the case will be taken at once to the court of appeals and will be pushed through in ample time for the contest.

The defendants to the suit are: Terry McGovern, Sam H. Harris, his manager; Young Corbett, John F. Corbett, his manager; James J. Corbett, the referee; William F. Norton, owner of the Auditorium; Robert C. Gray, manager and the Southern Athletic club and C. E. Lamberton, sporting editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer as a stake holder. The petition states that both Terry McGovern and Young Corbett are professional prize fighters and that in the fight each contestant will exert his utmost efforts to disable his opponent. The petition further declares that the proposed contest is merely a postponement of the fight arranged to take place before the Nutmeg Athletic club in Hartford, Conn., where an agreement was made to split the purse 60 per cent to the winner and 40 to the loser.

It is alleged that the prize fighting will bring together a dangerous assemblage of many thousand which will have a demoralizing effect on the well being of the community and that the contest is contrary to the laws of the state.

Will Ask Federal Aid.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 16.—Governor Richards has been informed by telephone from Grand Encampment that for many miles along the Wyoming-Colorado line north of Pearl, Colo., a furious forest fire is raging, devastating everything in its path. Every effort to subdue the flames has been exhausted without effect. Governor Richards immediately communicated with Governors Orman of Colorado, and arranged for both to send a telegram to the secretary of the interior, asking for aid. According to the latest reports there are at least 18 serious forest fires burning in Wyoming, to say nothing of numerous smaller fires in southern Albany county that are destroying great swamps of fine timber in the Medicine Bow range and threatening mining buildings. Although 100 miles away from Cheyenne, the smoke from these fires obscures the sky here and the odor of burning wood is plainly noticeable.

Another Riot.

San Francisco, Sept. 16.—There has been more rioting on the outskirts of the Presidio reservation. A band of soldiers gathered opposite a saloon and began throwing stones in the direction of the place and the police were summoned. The soldiers then assailed the police with sticks and stones. Some shots were fired by the soldiers who then rushed across the street and proceeded to wreck the saloon. They set fire to it, but the flames were extinguished by the fire department. The soldiers then directed their attention to another saloon and demolished it, while other houses in the vicinity were also more or less damaged. The rioters were finally quelled and a patrol forced them to retreat to the reservation.

Gold From Australia.

New York, Sept. 16.—J. and W. Seigman & Co. announce that they will receive $1,250,000 gold from Australia. The gold is due at San Francisco on Oct. 6.

PAIR OF CONFERENCES

Held by the Opposing Sides In Great Anthracite Coal Strike.

LABOR LEADERS VIEW SITUATION.

While Gompers and Mitchell Are Conferring at Wilkesbarre, the Operators Hold a Meeting In New York City.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 16.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, arrived here. He at once went to President Mitchell's headquarters where he met National Treasurer Wilson and the district presidents of the United Mine Workers.

Mr. Gompers and the executive officers of the miners' union held a lengthy conference. Before he went to the meeting Mr. Gompers was asked what his mission here was. He replied that he came to confer with Mr. Mitchell and the other officers of the union regarding the strike.

When the conference adjourned for dinner, Mr. Gompers was the only one who would speak regarding the deliberations. He said the strike situation was discussed in all its phases; the finances were found to be in a good condition; the relief funds were coming in promptly, and there was no reason why the strike should not continue without inflicting any hardships on the strikers.

Mr. Gompers was asked whether it was proposed to levy an extra assessment in order to help the miners out. He declined to answer the question. He also refused to say whether the American Federation of Labor will be convened in extra session to take action on the strike.

Meeting of Coal Operators.

New York, Sept. 16.—A conference of the leading anthracite coal interests was held at the Philadelphia and Reading company's offices. Those present included President Baer of the Reading road, President Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; President Fowler of the New York, Ontario and Western; President Walters, of the Lehigh Valley; President Oliphant, of the Delaware and Hudson; Irving Stearns, of Coxe Brothers and Company, and John Markle, of G. B. Markle and Company. The two last named represented the independent operating interests in the hard coal industry.

The precise subjects of the conference could not be learned, but it was stated in advance of the meeting that no concessions will be granted and that recent events of a semi-political character would not be seriously considered. Following a meeting with J. P. Morgan, John Markle made this statement. "I do not think it necessary to repeat that all talk of concessions on the part of the operators is foolish, and certainly without foundation. Our position now is the same as when Mitchell made his original propositions, and no different than when the strike began. So far as recent attempts at settlement are concerned, it is only necessary to add that every effort from Senator Hanna's down has been futile. We have defined our position and will maintain it."

Force Increased.

Tamaqua, Pa., Sept. 16.—The working force at the Greenwood colliery was increased somewhat and the plant is now running apparently without difficulty. Last night a committee from the Tamaqua local of the United Mine Workers visited M. A. Gerber, the superintendent of the operation and asked him to close the plant. This he refused to do. The Lehigh Coal and Navigation company is overhauling the machinery at its No. 11 breaker. It is said that work will be started the latter part of the week. The official of the company will neither confirm nor deny this report. The No. 4 and No. 12 collieries of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, the Smith-Myers washery and the Greenwood Coal company combined shipped about 2,000 tons of coal to New York.

Another Ocean Record.

New York, Sept. 16.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm arrived in port from Bremerhaven, Southampton and Cherbourg, beating all westward records. The Kronprinz Wilhelm left Cherbourg at 9:10 p. m. on Wednesday, Sept. 10, and arrived at the Sandyhook lightship at 4:07 a. m., making the run of 3,047 miles in five days, 11 hours and 57 minutes, at an average speed of 23.09 knots per hour. The time made is three hours and 48 minutes better than the best previous westward record.

MINISTER PELLETAN

Speaks of France's Naval Prowess

In Mediterranean.

Bizerta, Tunis, Sept. 16.—M. Pelletan, French minister of marine, made a remarkable speech, at an entertainment of the municipality, which is expected will cause the French foreign minister, M. Delesse, some trouble to explain. After pointing out the importance of Bizerta as a bulwark of France, M. Pelletan proceeded:

"We do not say we want to make the Mediterranean a French lake. We have been cured of the dreams of the great man, who wished us to dominate the world. But part of the Mediterranean is French and will remain French. With this powerful stronghold so well situated for defense and also for attack, and with Corsica and Toulon, we can hold the open door between the two halves of the Mediterranean in spite of Malta and Gibraltar. Certainly I do not desire a conflict of peoples against England any more than against Italy, but as we do not know what others are doing, it is part of our duty to prepare for the holy war; for the French fatherland against its enemies who ever they may be. I am convinced, thanks to the fellow-workers with whom I am surrounded, that we can face every eventuality. Security hardly exists any more for the civilized world. At the end of the nineteenth century, after the defeat of France by the barbarism of old Germany, we saw an offensive return of the law of brute force. The whole world seemed to be dominated by the maxim: 'Might before right.' We must then devote all our efforts to keeping intact that focus of justice and light—French genius."

France has at Bizerta a powerful military and naval stronghold which with Toulon on the north of the Mediterranean, French military and naval men assert that France's naval power in the west of the Mediterranean is unassailable and all that is required to consolidate the position of France is the construction of the so-called canal of two seas, which is to unite the Mediterranean with the Bay of Biscay, and thus render her independent of the straits of Gibraltar.

First White Republican Convention.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 16.—The Republican state convention met here with a large attendance present, almost every county in Alabama being represented. James Bowron, former vice president Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway company, acted as temporary chairman. The convention is composed exclusively of white men, being the first white Republican state convention ever held in Alabama. Before the convention met the state executive committee unseated all negro delegates. A number of prominent negroes are on hand to protest against this action, but it is not expected their protests will be heeded. United States Senator J. C. Prichard of North Carolina is present by invitation and will address the convention. It is expected he will endorse the white movement. Former Senator H. L. McElderry of Talladega is slated for governor.

Nothing Given Out.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 16.—Attorney General Mullan handed an opinion to Governor A. B. Cummins with regard to the legality of the recent filing of incorporation papers of the Rock Island and Pacific Railway company with the secretary of state. The governor refuses to make public the contents of the opinion for the reason that he desires to have a statement from himself accompany the same when made public. No intimation has been given of the position taken by the attorney general and all statements made with regard to the same are simply guesses. Governor Cummins left for Ames, Ia., to attend a meeting of the board of trustees to take up the subject of a successor of the late President Beardshear, of the Iowa state agricultural college. He will leave upon his return for Massachusetts to attend the launching of the Des Moines cruiser.

Andrews Testifies.

Detroit, Sept. 16.—Frank C. Andrews, who was convicted of misappropriating and misappropriating funds of the wrecked City Savings bank of this city, took the witness stand in recorder's court and testified as to his investigation of the jurors who convicted him, which resulted in the affidavits on which his pending motion for a new trial is based. Andrews said that about two weeks before the end of his trial he heard that one of the jurors was prejudiced against him and Detective Connelly investigated the matter. He found that Juror Bock had made statements against Andrews. Andrews denied strongly and positively that he ever authorized Connelly to pay any one money for giving testimony against Bock.

FEDERAL PLAN URGED

Senate Brought Face to Face With the Issue in the Code Bill.

CHANGES MADE IN THE NASH BILL.

Efforts of Cincinnati Members Before the House Committee to Incorporate the Board Plan Quickly Voted Down.

Columbus, O., Sept. 16.—The session of the select committee of the house had a long and stormy session, but two points were decided. The first was that there will be no more night sessions of the committee and the second that the Nash code will look more like the federal plan than anything else when it is reported back to the house. Only one section of the code was considered at the session, that being a continuation of the meeting Monday evening when the committee hung up on the Denman motion, which was overwhelmingly defeated. A motion by Mr. Williams which had the effect of giving Cincinnati a board for public safety was voted down.

The senate struck the milk in the code coconut when it reached the section providing for the election of a board of public service to consist of three members. When the section had been read, Mr. Moore of Athens offered an amendment providing for five instead of three members, which was promptly voted down, and then Senator Judson offered an amendment providing for the election of a director of public improvements. This raised the question directly of substituting the federal plan for the board plan, and provoked an animated discussion, which occupied the entire morning session, with a vote still not reached when the senate recessed for the noon hour.

A bill drawn by Attorney General Sheets will be introduced to set right the jury laws in the counties of Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin, Lucas, Montgomery and Mahoning. In these six counties the juries are drawn under special and therefore undoubtedly unconstitutional acts. The bill re-enacts, with a few minor amendments, the law now in force in 82 counties of the state, making it applicable to all. The most important change increases from three to 10 the number of days during which the jury commission may remain in session.

The Nash code will be the basis of calculation with the house code committee. This action, however, was not secured without a struggle, as a strong minority opposed it. The committee met in the finance committee room. The attendance was not large but there was a quorum present. Mr. Cole of Hancock county moved that as there were four code bills before the committee, house bill No. 5, the governor's code, be used as a basis for action by the committee, and this was promptly seconded by Mr. Worthington, another administration man. Vigorous speeches followed for and against the proposition, and the Nash code was adopted at once as a basis for further discussion.

A plan of government was decided upon by the committee. This will be the department plan. Heads of departments will be elected by the people.

Valuable Timber Burned.

Denver, Sept. 16.—But little progress toward checking the forest fires in different sections of the state is being made. At the head of Chicago creek, the fire is again beyond control. A vast strip of territory has been burned over and it is feared that the towns along Clear creek will experience a shortage of water due to the fact that the fire has destroyed the protection to the snow beds. United States Forest Supervisor Henry Nicholson, who is conducting the fight against the fire in the neighborhood of Cassels, at the head of Platt canyon, called upon the mining companies in that vicinity for assistance in fighting the flames and men were despatched with complete equipment to his aid. The fire has burned for several weeks and has destroyed much valuable timber. Several summer resorts are in danger.

Death of Rev. Seibert.

New York, Sept. 16.—Rev. Dr. George C. Seibert, professor of Hebrew exegesis at the German Theological seminary of Newark, died from congestion of the lungs, on board the steamer Kroonlaed Tuesday, when the vessel was three days out from Antwerp. He was born at Wetter, Germany, in 1828, and was the author of several works on philosophy and theology.

GRADUALLY the economic issues before the people, remarks the Philadelphia Record, are tending toward one central and all-embracing question, shall or shall not a high protective duty be levied on trust-made goods sold in the world's markets? The burden of proof is upon those who insist that such an adjunct of public plunder is necessary factor in our administrative policy.

The Johnstown (Pa.) Democrat quotes Secretary of the Treasury Shaw as denying Sugar Trust Havemeyer's declaration that "the tariff is the mother of trusts" and then quotes what Mr. Shaw himself says of the tariff, that "it is simply the parent of conditions that make it profitable for capital to combine." "That is," says the Democrat, "according to Mr. Shaw the tariff is not the mother, but only the grandmother of trusts. The answer of the people to Mr. Shaw, is 'then knock the grandmother on the head.'"

PICTURE this little scene to yourself: An American housewife goes into a store and buys a pound of borax, paying 8 cents for it. As she turns away with her package, another housewife comes in and buys two pounds of borax and is charged 5 cents for her purchase.

"Why do you charge me 8 cents for one pound of borax and let that other woman have two pounds for 5 cents?" the American housewife demands.

"Oh," answers the storekeeper blandly, "she's English, you know."

How long would that storekeeper, openly discriminating in favor of the foreign and against the native customer, be able to do business anywhere in the United States?

Yet this transaction in borax illustrates perfectly what the trusts are doing on a colossal scale in the home and foreign markets, says the New York World.

The Republican party replies to the people's demand for tariff revision with the statement that it must be revised by its friends. But when will that be done? The Republicans do not attempt to explain why their party majority at the last session of Congress throttled Representative Babcock and refused to consider any question of tariff modification. They do not explain why no effort was made to strengthen the hands of the Attorney General so that a fight against the trusts might have some chance of success. That the Republican leaders have steadily opposed all tariff legislation is beyond a doubt and in the present campaign handbook of the Republican Congressional Committee there is no intimation of a purpose to revise it at all.

MR. BABCOCK'S STRONG ARGUMENT FOR TARIFF REVISION.

Chairman Babcock, of the Republican Congressional Committee, before the Mr. Hyde in his nature got its ascendancy over the Dr. Jekyll of him, said: "Shall we continue a tariff on articles that yield no revenue, need no protection and are articles of export?" To-day the Democratic party is asking that same question and they are answering it as Mr. Babcock then answered it, when he said such a tariff "simply inures to the benefit of those who control any such commodity, since by its aid they can fix exorbitant prices in the domestic market." That is the sum and substance of the whole argument for tariff revision, and is so strikingly and so pungently put that Mr. Babcock must have had a very clear view of the matter when he said it. "A tariff on articles that yield no revenue." That is what the Democrats protest against. They urge with all earnestness, and justly so, that the duties on trust-made goods must go. Trust-made goods are goods that, to quote Mr. Babcock, "Are articles of export," the tariff on them yields no revenue, but simply enables the trusts that make them "to fix exorbitant prices in the domestic market." This is the position the Democratic party has always taken on the tariff question, and the position they maintained in the battle of the people against the money power which has come to be such a serious menace to our country that even the Republicans are professing to be alarmed at it. And the only reason we can discover why Mr. Babcock should have recanted from the doctrine preached by him and just quoted is that he found himself occupying a position out of his own camp and in the Democratic stronghold.

The Progress of the Topographic Survey of Kentucky.

The progress which the United States Geological Survey is making in the topographic survey of Kentucky this season is indicated by a recent report by Mr. H. M. Wilson, geographer in charge. During July a party under Topographer W. L. Miller was engaged on a section of the State in the vicinity of Harrodsburg, where eighty-five miles of spirit levels and 282 miles of road traverse were run and 355 elevations were established. The map for which these data are being collected will be published in size and on scale uniform with those of the maps of other portions of the State issued by the United States Geological Survey.

Miss Sarah Boyle, of Ohio, who died wealthy, requested during her last illness that she be buried in a twenty-five dollar coffin, and that her remains be interred at night.

Ninety-Eight Per Cent.

There is a fascination about big profits to a business man. But the conservative and cautious trader prefers to have the lesser per cent. of interest and the larger per cent. of safety in his investments. There is no business man who would not consider it a sound proposition to invest in an enterprise in which absolute loss was impossible and which offered ninety-eight chances in a hundred of a rich profit. The statistics of cures affected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery show that ninety-eight per cent. of cases of "weak lungs" can be absolutely cured. Almost if not all forms of physical weakness may be traced to starvation. Starvation saps the strength. The body is just as much starved when the stomach cannot extract nutrition from the food it receives as when there is no food. "Weak lungs," bronchial affections, obstinate coughs, call for nourishment. "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies that nourishment in most condensed and assimilable form. It makes "weak lungs" strong by strengthening the stomach and organs of digestion which digest and distribute the food, and by increasing the supply of pure blood.

The game at the Sixth ward park this afternoon will be a sure go, as the money has been guaranteed and an agreement made with the Portsmouth Navys to stop over here on their return trip from Ripley, at which place they played yesterday, the game resulting in the defeat of the Ripleyites by a score of 9 to 1. The Portsmouths are known to be a first-class team in amateur base ball circles, and need no further introduction. The locals will have the best talent to be gotten together in the city, and they will give the visitors a run for their money. This will be the last game of the season here, and a large crowd should go out and give the management a lift, as money has been lost on every game played this season.

"Something More"

Than good Clothing is nowadays necessary to satisfy the average man and boy who wishes to dress well. Not alone must fabric, trimming and sewing be good, but the cut of the garments must be "natty" and up-to-date. It must be apparent to the buyer that the collar, shoulders, lapels and general contour of the coat is just "right." All of these qualities coupled with reasonable prices our Clothing possess. Nothing goes out of our house that does not meet with "our approval" and when it does that you can rest assured "you" will be pleased.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.
We are authorized to announce FRANK P. O'DONNELL as a candidate for Circuit Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

A Sample of Republican Logic.
[Anoka, Minn., Free Press.]

Last year, when potatoes were $1 per bushel, it was the Dingley tariff, alias the Republican party, that did it. This year, with potatoes at 15 to 17 cents per bushel and the same tariff in vogue, it is the abundant crop that does it! Here is Republican campaign logic for you.

Rachel R. Sheldon of Mt. Olivet has been granted a pension of $8 a month.

THE BEE HIVE

Queen Quality Shoes!

Hanan Shoes!

We promised you when we came here a little over a year ago to make this store the finest in Maysville, that is if you gave us your patronage. You have done your part nobly—we have been trying to do ours. Have we?

To-day we can announce that we have ready on our second floor a department devoted to Ladies', Misses' and Children's READY-TO-WEAR goods, as nice as any in the State of Kentucky. We had intended to have a grand opening when all was completed, but goods are crowding us so and new goods crying to be shown, and lots of them are being asked for, so we have concluded to show our line as they come in, hoping to have our house warming later on. Ready for your inspection now—

VERY COOL WEATHER,

Was the Marked Feature of the Past Week.
Some Damage by Frost, But Its Extent Not Yet Known.

[Weekly Bulletin of Weather Bureau, Sept. 16th.]
Very cool weather prevailed during the week, with frosts on the 13th and 14th, and in a few places on the 15th. Late tobacco and garden vegetables were injured in some localities; how extensive this damage is can not be determined at present, but it is not believed to be very serious. The greater portion of the tobacco in the burley districts has been housed, but in the west a large part is still in the field and will need about two weeks more of favorable weather to mature properly.

Corn cutting progressed well. The crop as a whole will be nearly up to the average, but is somewhat irregular; it is now about half cut.

Good rains during the week improved the condition of pastures and put the ground in good shape to plow for winter wheat.

Apples are very poor and peaches are practically a failure. Irish potatoes are very fine, but sweet potatoes are inferior. Sorghum is being cut and ground and is about an average crop. Hemp is very satisfactory in quality and yield. The turnip crop and stock peas are not doing well. Farm work is well up.

Notice.

Take stock in Limestone Building Association. Books now open for twenty-seventh series.

Mrs. O. H. P. Thomas has sold her handsome home on West Third street to Mr. W. N. Stockton. Terms private.

THE C. G. AND P. TRACTION LINE.

Work Being Pushed to Complete the Electric Equipment Between Cincinnati and Georgetown.

Work is being very vigorously prosecuted on the C. G. and P. railroad. The company are straining every nerve to compass the completion of the electrical equipment at the earliest possible moment, but there has been, as is usual in such undertakings, many unforeseen drawbacks, writes Mr. Chas. W. Hayden, formerly of Orangeburg, now of Braziers' Station, Clermont County. The difficulty in getting workmen was not a minor one, although the pay was prompt and sure and the labor of a nature not unusually hard. Delay in steel appurtenances for the cars was another item. Opposition of city fathers at "Cincy" to crossing a street was another, and scarcity of ties another.

The present narrow gauge track will be widened to the proper gauge Sunday, Sept. 26th, probably in the evening. The cars will be running per time card Nov. 21st, 1902. There is a great deal of track raising, leveling, &c., to be done before cars can be safely run at a high speed. The work of stringing the feed wires and trolley wires is being hastened with all possible celerity, and it is safe to say this electric railway, which is one of the greatest improvements Clermont County and Southern Ohio has yet had, will be completed and in tip-top running order before winter sets in, so as to be ready to handle the heavy holiday trade. The various power houses along the line are being built and equipped without regard to expenses. No half-way doings goes with the C. G. and P.'s new management. "Extra first-class or nothing is their motto." This is the company that will probably have a branch into Aberdeen in a year or two.

State Auditor's Agent Watson has filed an agreed settlement with Mrs. Annie E. Wilson for taxes on personal property heretofore omitted, during the years 1880 to 1902 inclusive. The total assessment amounted to $184,000. Mr. Watson has also filed an agreed settlement with John W. Alexander, administrator of Mary Davis, for taxes on a total of $6,000 omitted from assessment for years 1899 to 1902. Also an agreed settlement with W. W. Ball, executor of Mrs. H. F. Turner, for taxes on a total of $2,264 omitted for years 1901, 1902.

Walter L. Main challenges America to produce an adverse criticism of his Mammoth Master Shows, he challenges the world to point to a single misrepresentation that he has ever made. He challenges the universe to show wherein he has ever discounted a promise to pay or to please. See his big circus and menagerie Friday.

Innovation in House Building.

There is considerable interest in an innovation in house construction introduced by Mr. R. M. Hardeman, of Lexington. It is a combination frame and brick; the weather boarding being dispensed with and a single course of brick in its stead. The brick are tied to the studding by galvanized wire. To all appearances it will be a solid three course brick house, and it is claimed has all the advantages of both kinds and none of the disadvantages of either. This method generally prevails in the Northwest and on the Pacific coast and is very popular. Mr. Hardeman was a resident of Maysville many years.

Most of our farmers will finish housing tobacco this week.

Protracted meeting is in progress at Mower's Park, near Fears.

Rev. Charles Vawter preached at Bethany Sunday night.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Senator Thomas R. Bard Dangerously Ill With Pneumonia.

Los Angeles, Sept. 16.—United States Senator Thomas R. Bard of California is lying dangerously ill at the Pan Nuis hotel in this city. He is suffering from pneumonia, complicated with strong symptoms of typhoid and very weak heart action.

The condition of Senator Bard is extremely critical. His temperature was 101 and his pulse 145. Oxygen was administered during the night. His physician states that unless the pulse can be reduced soon the senator cannot possibly live more than 48 hours.

Senator Bard has been in Los Angeles for several weeks. With his family he has been living at a hotel and for some time he had Senator Quarles of Wisconsin as his guest. A meeting of the senate committee on territories composed of Senators Bard, Quarles, Beveridge and Fairbanks is scheduled to be held in this city shortly. Senators Bard and Quarles have been here in readiness for this meeting for some time. Senator Beveridge is in San Francisco and Senator Fairbanks is expected here soon.

A Brilliant Meteor.

Painesville, O., Sept. 16.—A member of the life saving crew at Fairport and many others saw an enormous meteor as large as a barrel fall from the heavens. It shot out of the clear sky and fell in a direct line towards the earth, leaving a long, brilliant trail that could be seen for several moments in its path.
